

2025 ENGLISH LANGUAGE DAY STUDENT CONFERENCE

CALL FOR PAPERS

English Language and Literature Study Program is pleased to announce its annual conference for young researchers which will take place on 23rd April 2025 at Faculty of Philosophy, University of Zenica, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

In line with the 2010 initiative of the UN's Department of Global Communications which established 23rd April as International English Language Day, the conference is dedicated to the celebration and promotion of the English language, literature, and culture. It presents a unique opportunity for BA and MA students to connect across the academic spectrum and foster future collaboration. We accept papers related but not limited to: linguistics, literature, translation studies, culture, English as Foreign Language (EFL), or English as a Second Language (ESL).

Working language of the conference is English. Papers may be presented in person or online (for participants outside B&H). The participants shall be granted certificates of participation.

Authors are invited to submit abstracts through Google Forms link: Registration form
